

WE NOMINATE

Ernest Gordon, outspoken and understanding Dean of the Princeton University Chapel, whose sermons and writings are attracting a steadily increasing degree of attention in a world shredded by doubts and fears. This month, as he rounds out his first weeks as a naturalized American citizen, this 44-year old native of Scotland is serving as guest preacher in New York City's Central Presbyterian Church and is there expounding a thesis that has come to mean so much to so many hundreds of Princetonians over the past five years: freedom is essentially neither political nor economic, but is spiritual and is found only through God, "whose service is perfect freedom."

The third clergyman to serve as Princeton's "Chapel Dean" since the post was created in the late 1920's, Gordon brought to his post in 1955 the kind of rugged faith that enables him to stress "the acceptance of the supreme sovereignty of God, the truth of the Christian faith and the upholding of personal freedom through faithfulness to God's eternal commandment, 'Thou shalt love'." Stretching out far behind him, but bolstering his convictions in the 1960's, were his experiences during World War II when he spent well over three years as a Japanese prisoner of war on the banks of a jungle river in Thailand, the celebrated River Kwai.

As is recounted in the June issue of the Christian Herald, and even more compellingly in the June issue of Reader's Digest, Gordon, a captain in the proud Scottish regiment, the Argyll and Sutherland Highlanders, somehow survived the frightening "deterioration of character" induced by the construction of the infamous "Railway of Death," the 250-mile railroad the Japanese built to facilitate their planned push into Burma and India. The devotion of two medical orderlies during a bout of near-death illness not only gave Gordon back his life, but, equally important, gave him what he calls "another life."

Out of this struggle for survival gradually emerged what Gordon and his fellow prisoners grandly christened their Jungle University, the kind of undertaking Albert Schweitzer once termed "the fellowship of those who bear the mark of pain" and an organization that completely baffled their Japanese captors. This wonderful university of the spirit, with the church as its focal point, held together; the Japanese didn't; and Gordon returned to civilian life with the determination that his vocation had to be the ministry.

Following the war, he plunged into theological studies at Edinburgh, came to this country for training at the Hartford (Conn.) Theological Seminary and was ordained in 1950 in the Church of Scotland. He next sensed that his ministry must be to university students, the young. He had "seen the depths to which men could descend through raw self-seeking. I'd seen also the heights to which they could rise when they had found both themselves and God. It is that search, sincere and persistent, that one finds on college campuses today."

For finding a life deep "with meaning and purpose;" for communicating to others the urgency of learning "to pray for others more than for ourselves;" for defining freedom as "spiritual awareness, what I truly am;" he is Town Topics' nominee for

CROSS-COUNTRY DRAMA

Eyes here on Los Angeles. With one resident of Princeton likely to play a key role in the Democratic national convention, and three other well-known officeholders from this area planning to take part in the proceedings, the community will have more than a passing interest in the political pageant set to open Monday in Los Angeles.

Governor Robert Meyner's role of "favorite son," which will hold New Jersey's 41 votes for him at least on the first ballot, has been the source of continuing speculation. The timing he will employ to release the delegates, and the effect such action will have on Senator John F. Kennedy's headlong race for early nomination, can possibly play a major part in determining the Democrats' next presidential nominee.

By automobile, train and jet, more than 300 New Jersey Democrats will arrive this weekend in Los Angeles. Governor and Mrs. Meyner will depart from "Morven" to lead a delegation of 118 traveling by jet liner from Idlewild Airport on Friday. A delegate with the Governor will be Thom Lord, the party's county chairman and candidate for U.S. Senator.

In Los Angeles, too, will be Mayor Raymond F. Mole, State Labor Commissioner and a former executive assistant to the Governor. The fourth Democratic officeholder from Princeton who is making the trip to California is Prof. Richard A. Lester, Borough Council president.

Meyner's Future at Stake. Ability on the part of Governor Meyner to time release of the New Jersey delegation—and the choice of candidate he makes as recipient of the 41 votes—will in large degree determine his political future. While Senator Kennedy has openly wooed New Jersey's support, Governor Meyner has merely said, in effect, "I am the State's favorite son and the first ballot will be in my name. After that, we will see what the best move is."

Currently in his last term as Governor (although he would serve for another 18 months), Mr. Meyner's career is conceivably at the turning point. If his swing to Senator Kennedy is deemed of major assistance in the latter's nomination, it has been said by political observers that a cabinet post could be forthcoming should the Democrats take a four-year lease on the White House next January.

On the other hand, political thinking completely blinds Governor Meyner from a post he might win if a candidate other than Senator Kennedy proves to be the convention's choice. With the Senator from Massachusetts in the top spot, the Democrats would lose to another party the country for their vice-presidential nominee. However, all three of the other leading possibilities (Johnson of Texas, Springfield of Missouri, Stevenson of Illinois) would almost certainly want an easterner to round out the ticket. As he watches carefully the ceaseless political by-play, Governor Meyner cannot but have the need for hair-trigger timing in mind.

Political speculation has also raised a question of a different nature: How long can the Governor control the New Jersey delegation? If he should attempt to swing its support to a candidate other than Senator Kennedy, can he deliver anywhere near a majority of its 41 votes? In some analyses of the forthcoming drama, the word "revolt" has been used to forecast what course New Jersey's delegation may take if Governor Meyner delays showing his hand.

Early Break to Kennedy? A number of the State's official delegates to the convention have been riding the Kennedy bandwagon for several weeks—so openly that various predictions agree that the first ballot removing Governor Meyner from the favorite son role will give a minimum of 35 New Jersey votes to Senator Kennedy. Those favoring such a move point out that if elected, the Massachusetts Senator will then direct considerable political favor toward this State from the White House.

As the colorful, quadrannual pageantry nears, the New Jersey delegation's task is to determine how fast the Kennedy bandwagon is rolling; whether it has sufficient momentum to—Continued on Page 2 achieve the requisite 761 votes; or whether the State can afford the gamble of waiting to back a candidate on whom the spotlight has not been focused quite as brightly as it has on Senator Kennedy. Inevitably, the unfolding drama will provide its fascinating moments, with the part that Princeton and New Jersey play adding unusual interest to a chapter in history.

ROUNDP
A record crowd of some 18,000 persons—mostly under the age of 12—watched the skyrockets and the Roman candles at the American Legion's annual fireworks show in Palmer Stadium. The take at the gate showed 5,000 adults, some accompanied by as many as seven children. Proceeds are used only to pay actual expenses, including insurance with Lloyd's of London. Police Chief Raymond Mundone reports that with the training of additional men on radar speed checks, expanded operation is planned. Motorists may find a round-the-clock survey being made of their driving habits. 42 spectators were given tickets on Borough streets during June.

That was an inch and a half of rain that fell Friday, reducing by half the area's three-inch rain deficit. It was the kind farmers like to see; a steady day-long downpour that makes vacationers wish they were home again.
Sunday's thunder and lightning storm dumped .52 inches of rain in the Riverdale area of Princeton where meteorologist David Ludlum has his instruments, but only a "trace" on the instruments of the Storm Brook-Millstone Watershed Association, located in the Hopewell-Pennington area. (A "trace" is less than .01).
Princeton has had more thunderstorms than usual this summer, which is a good sign, according to Mr. Ludlum, because that means that cold air is coming in behind warm air, and that's a situation that makes everybody happy.
So far, since June 1, there has been a change of air every two or three days in Princeton... the frequent cold-air fronts that have been coming down from Canada to make life pleasant are not typical of the usual stagnant Princeton condition (as if Princeton didn't know) and Mr. Ludlum says that long-range predictions forecast temperatures above normal... but he can't see a hot spell in the immediate future.

Ten Years Ago: TOWN TOPICS, July 6, 1956: The Princeton Hospital Building Fund goal of $1,200,000 was topped when Mr. and Mrs. Lambert made a second donation of $100,000 on the stipulation that the community raise the remaining $35,000 shortage, which it did by nearly $2000. Applied Science Corporation announced plans to build a laboratory in Princeton Junction... road construction crews began work in the Hightstown area on the New Jersey Turnpike, scheduled for completion in 1951.

In sports, the Princeton entry in the Twin-M Baseball League was handicapped in its drive for the pennant by an injury to second baseman Dick Coffey, who fractured his leg when his foot became caught in the metal ring that helps anchor the bag to the ground and a runner slid into him. Jimmy Brown, Jack Petrone and Joe Friel were all hitting above .300 for manager Tom Brophy's nine. The Phantom A.C. was leading the Men's Softball League and the Fieletes were in first place in the Girl's League... Charles Rocknak, son of the Borough Councilman, accepted a trophy as manager of the Harrison Street Tigers, winning entry in the Midgut Baseball League.

On the birth list at Princeton Hospital were daughters to Mr. and Mrs. Irving Feldman, 45 Park; Mr. and Mrs. Elsie White, 138 Witherspoon; Mr. and Mrs. Donald Mackie, Edgertroune; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Petrone, 18 Spruce; Mr. and Mrs. Mortimer Feldman, 236 Jefferson; Mr. and Mrs. Wilcox Baker, Valley Road; sons to Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hatcher, Shirley Court; Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Skillman, 65 Patton; Mr. and Mrs. Blanchard W. Bates, 14 Bank; Mr. and Mrs. James Carter, 8 Birch.
The movie at the Playhouse was "Annie Get Your Gun" with Ethel Merman, while the Garden was offering "The Jackie Robinson Story"... Lorraine Day was the lead in "Angel Street" at McCarter Theatre's summer season, while the University Players were reading "Coriolanus" for a late July opener.

All Saints Gains Steeple
The steeple of All Saints Chapel of Trinity Church was raised Friday, and the Snowden Lane church now boasts a 67½ foot aluminum structure topped by a 16½ foot cross covered with 24 carat gold leaf.

Industrial Engineering Works of Trenton fabricated and erected the steeple and cross. Vaughn S. Grunds, chairman of the firm's board and a member of the church, and Samuel Frothingham, church building committee chairman, supervised the placing of the steeple. Also present were Edward N. Bloomstein of Adams and Woodbridge, architects, who designed the chapel and steeple, and the Rev. Charles Newbery of the Trinity staff.

The steeple weighs 4½ tons, but the giant crane which raised it into place accomplished its task without difficulty or mishaps. The work required about a hour to complete.

TOPICS Of the Town

WIDENING OPPOSED

For Harrison Street. Opposition to a project not even on the agenda, the widening of Harrison Street, appeared at Tuesday night's session of Borough Council. Objecting were property owners in the area, who made their feelings known by a petition and personal appearances. Both took exception to plans for widening the street and the bridge at its foot. The bridge widening is presently under consideration by the county, and the planning boards of both the Borough and Township have studied the situation. Specific plans for widening Harrison Street have not been presented in either municipality.

The petition signed by property owners in the area requested Council to oppose the widening of both Harrison Street and the bridge, on the basis that this would draw heavy truck traffic.

UP IT GOES! Two workmen hang on to the steeple of All Saints Chapel of Trinity Church, as it was raised into place Friday by a giant crane. (Alan Richards Photo)

It noted the depreciation in property values, reduced size of lots, removal of trees and increased noise which would result from the widening of the street and heavy traffic.

Speakers against the project were Lawrence L. DuPra, of 75 Harrison Street, and the Misses Vera and Eleanor Bayles of 85 Harrison Street. They noted the problem of obtaining exact facts on future plans for Harrison and stated their objection to making the street into a Route 206 alternate.

The governing body, reduced to five members with the absence of Richard Lester and Mayor F. Male and headed by Alfred E. Sorenson, did not agree internally. Councilman Richard F. Colman sided with the petition, while both Councilmen Dan D. Coyle and William H. Walker pointed out the need for greater use of Harrison Street to meet the Borough's own traffic problem.

"It is inevitable that Harrison Street will become a major internal road in the metropolitan area," Mr. Walker explained. He added that projects such as widening the Harrison Street bridge are designed not to open up the street to through traffic but to reduce the load on Nassau Street. Along the same lines, Councilman Coyle observed that Harrison Street is needed to handle traffic generated locally, not through traffic.

206 Alternate in Doult. Bypassing the whole issue was the question of the proposed alternate to Route 206, to run from Somerville to Hightstown. This long-discussed project is being studied by the State, but the exact stage of plans is uncertain, according to Mr. Coyle.

Councilman Walker observed that even if the Borough supports action on Harrison Street, it does not mean giving up on 206-A. Mr. Colman, on the other hand, claimed that the more the traffic problem is eased by "chipping away at things in the Borough" by projects such as Harrison Street, the less likely the State will be to act on 206-A.

Both before and after the unexpected discussion of Harrison Street traffic problems, Council acted on more routine matters, including:

- Acceptance of bids on the reconstruction of Franklin Avenue between Walnut, Lane and Harrison Street North and section of J. Vinch and Sons, which

The supply of cold fronts seems plentiful this summer, as Princetonian Edmund Ludlum points out in a weather report on page 2. They aren't quiet as permanent as a swimming pool, but then they do air-condition the house.

The big one that's been blowing cool Canadian air this way since Monday is scheduled to depart by Thursday, but another appears to be in the making for the weekend. After more than two inches of rain from last Friday's and Sunday precipitation, expectations are it will stay dry for the next three or four days.

RESIDENTS REASSURED

On Harrison Street Widening. "There is no sentiment in either municipality to widen Harrison Street in the foreseeable future," Mayor R. Kenneth Fairman said at Tuesday night's Township Committee meeting in answer to 26 property owners on Harrison, Harley Avenue and Western Way who signed a petition protesting any plans to widen the street to four lanes and convert it to a "link" between Route One and 266.

Mayor Fairman added, however, that there was need for a new wider bridge over Lake Carnegie at Harrison Street, and also for a new and wider bridge on lower Alexander. He pointed out that the width of these bridges would be determined by County officials.

The county has been asked, Mayor Fairman said, to bar parking on its portion of Harrison and Committeemen John Mount said there was a possibility of a lane behind these properties where street parking would be prohibited. He also said that it was not accurate to refer to a widened Harrison as a substitute for a 266-A bypass, and he reminded Township residents that the State Highway Department has plans that go far beyond the relief of Princeton traffic.

Mayor Fairman also quoted an earlier estimate of future Princeton traffic in which the community would have as many cars on the street each day as there are at noon on the day of a Yale football game.

The State Bureau of Traffic Safety has replied to the Township's request to lower the speed limit on Ridgeview Road by stating that children should not be allowed to use the road, and that walkways should be provided for walking and wider shoulders provided for cars which have to pull off the road. The state also suggested better street lighting on Ridgeview.

"This letter is typical of the way we keep getting the back of the hand from the state on speed limits." Mayor Fairman commented. "Maybe we should tell the state to plant grass and put wider shoulders on Route 206. Any suggestions from Township residents on how to meet this problem with the state would be most appreciated."

Land Acquisition Expected. In anticipation of an agreement letter this summer with the trustees of Community Gardens whereby the trustees will make land available to the Township for a civic center, school, recreation area and park. News Of The THEATRES

(A review of "The Underpants," current University Players' offering, appears on page 5.)

"THE PRODIGAL" TO OPEN
In Murray Theater, "The Prodigal," a new play by Jack Richardson, will open at Princeton's Murray Theater on Monday and run through Saturday. The play, which won the Vernon Rice Award this year, will be the third offering of the University Players' summer series.

The modern-dress production will star George Segal as Orestes and will introduce Rosemary Murphy of the original Broadway cast of "Look Homeward Angel," as Cassandra. The play is a modern treatment of the Orestes legend and will be directed by Roger Graf. Mr. Graf also staged this week's play, "The Underpants."

A veteran of several Broadway productions, Mr. Segal was last seen in Princeton in the University Players' production of "Ring Around the Moon" in 1955. Lucille Patton and M.A. Thorne, both of whom played in "The Underpants," will appear in the featured roles of Clytemnestra and Agamemnon.

Described by "Time" magazine as "a fresh, deeply written play," "The Prodigal" shows how Orestes, against his will, is forced into becoming an instrument of dramatic justice despite his desire to ignore his royal past from a position of marked anonymity. Sunday Schedule Cancelled. A revision of the schedule of University Players' performances has been announced by Richard Cumming, publicity director. According to the new schedule, all Sunday performances have been cancelled owing to circumstances beyond the control of the theatrical company. For the remainder of the summer, the plays will be offered nightly Monday through Saturday. Those with Sunday tickets may change them at the Murray Theater ticket office.

The new schedule follows: July 11-15, "The Prodigal" by Jack Richardson; July 18-23, "Major Barbara" by George Bernard Shaw; July 25-30, "An Enemy of the People" by Ibsen, adapted by Arthur Miller; August 1-5, three one-act comedies; August 8-13, "Six Characters in Search of an Author" by Luigi Pirandello; August 15-20, "Kiss Me, Kate" by Cole Porter.

MISS EMERSON STARS
In Bucks Playhouse Comedy. Faye Emerson is starring in "State of the Union," an updated version of the 1946 Pulitzer Prize comedy, at the Bucks County Playhouse. The production opened Tuesday and will continue through July 16.

Revision of "State of the Union," which involved changing references from the Republican Party to the Democratic Party because of the shift in party power since 1946, was accomplished by producer Michael Ellis. Co-starring with Miss Emerson is John Baragrey.

CAROUSEL TO OPEN
At Lambertville. The hit musical "Carousel" will begin a two-week stand at St. John Terrell's Music Circus, Lambertville, on Tuesday. Featured in the lead roles of the Rogers and Hammerstein masterpiece are Art Matthews, Janice Lothian, Marie Crittenden, William Pierson and Linda King.

Louis MacMillan has staged the musical production which includes songs such as "You'll Never Walk Alone," "June Is Bustin' Out All Over" and the "Crounel Waltz." Choreography is by Edward Earle; scenery by Robert Soule; and musical direction by Donald Dippin.

On Monday, the night before "Carousel" opens, Ahmad Jamal and His Trio will present a jazz concert at the Music Circus. Jazz—Continued on Page 6

This will be the second of the Monday night jazz specialists offered this summer at the Music Circus. "Red Head," starring June Ericson, continues through this Sunday.

THE PLAYHOUSE

The Rat Race (July 6-12) proves that the limeworm story of country boy and girl in big city can still be tolerably interesting. The only reason for a decent result from such hackneyed material is that the country boy happens to be Tony Curtis in his third appearance on a Princeton screen in the past month) and the country girl, Debbie Reynolds.

Given Curtis as a musician from Milwaukee trying his luck in New York and Miss Reynolds as a dance contest winner turned dance hall hostess in Manhattan, the average moviegoer should be able to fill in the remainder of the plot. "The Rat Race" is saved from certain death, however, by the performances of the two stars; the direction of Robert Mulligan; and the music of Elmer Bernstein, rendered by such top musicians as Joe Buskin, Sam Butera and Gerry Mulligan. The whole thing is further improved by the touches added by the lesser actors; Jack Oakie, as the friendly bartender; May Medford, owner of a cheap rooming house; and Don Rickles, the dance hall operator.

In short, it is one of those productions which is acceptable despite the unoriginal plot.

Psycho (July 13-19) is the latest much heralded, top-secret Alfred Hitchcock production. Unhappily all the build up has been an attempt to put a special label on what is little more than typical Hitchcock television production stretched out to almost two hours.

Not that we have anything against the master of spine-tingling mysteries—it's just that 109 minutes of strained camera angles, gory details, chilling music, implausibilities and engulfing suspense are a bit too much. Admittedly, there is a good trick ending which is intended to be a complete surprise. Also, there are two well-constructed women (Vera Miles and Janet Leigh), a talentless (Anthony Perkins) with a mother who does not fit the normal conception of what mother should be like, and the necessary paraphernalia for any mystery, such as a sheriff (John McIntire) and private investigator (John Balsam).

Hitchcock's accessories in this production include Joseph Hurley and Robert Clatworthy, art directors, Saul Bass, pictorial consultant responsible for the clever title, and Bernard Hermann, who put together the musical.

AT NEW HOPE: Faye Emerson has lead role in "State of the Union," now at Bucks County Playhouse.

score. Oh yes, we nearly forgot: "Psycho" takes place in a haunted motel!

THE GARDEN

Fellow Talk (July 7-9) is a funny, happily improbable comedy about life among the young and unimpoised in New York which made its Princeton debut at the Playhouse last November. Doris Day and Rock Hudson are attractive and bright in the leading roles of the Cinemascope and technicolor production. The excellent supporting cast features Tony Randall, Thomas Ritter, Nick Adams and Julia Neale.

The plot is thin, but that doesn't matter since it is liberally spiced with hilarious situations and spicy dialogue. It revolves around the problems engendered by the fact that Miss Day, a rising interior decorator, and Hudson, an apparently wealthy bachelor songwriter, share the same party-line telephone. (Why, with all the good things of life both of them seem to enjoy, neither thinks to install a private line is something best known to elves and Hollywood scriptwriters.)

Several unmemorable but pleasant songs have been supplied by Joe Lubin and I. J. Roth, including one titled "Inspiration" which Hudson warbles over the phone to each of his many girlfriends as if he had written it just for her. Michael Gordon was responsible for the highly professional direction. Recommended.

South Pacific (July 11-16) has finally made it to Princeton. Those who haven't seen it but have been enthralled with the music may want to grab the opportunity while they have it— but they should be aware that it isn't up to the show which started its smash-hit run on Broadway in 1949.

MID-SUMMER WEAR

In Fine Style at Mayne Mead. During the hottest month of the year, pleasant and relaxed shopping can be enjoyed at 188 Nassau Street. For the clientele of Mayne Mead, there is free off-street parking under shady old maples, assuring the almost forgotten experience of unfrenzied shopping.

The building, one of Princeton's older and most individual pieces of architecture, is surrounded with attractive planting under high old-fashioned windows and one enters with more than usual anticipation. What you find within is fully as rewarding for Mayne Mead's merchandise is well known for its combination of consummate style, taste and workmanship.

For mid-summer evenings, there is a fine selection of Informal, light dresses featuring Terry Rogers' floral print of dacton and cotton voile in muted tones of blue, brown, yellow, and white, which give contour to the neckline and then melt into an easy skirt, also form a graceful capelet over the shoulders.

For daytime wear, there is a cool sleeveless dress made of a fine cotton covered with bachelor buttons and berries in heavenly blues and lavenders. Dorothy Cox has designed this one with a neat fly-front and a nicely turned Peter Pan collar.

Mayne Mead is Princeton's only store for Herbert Soreheim who offers a more formal type of cotton. One prize is a chic sheath made of "snowbound" petit point pique and patterned in big bold flowers. The bodice is outlined in give a mock jacket effect above a very straight skirt. It comes in sizes 8 to 20, olive green or brilliant blue and white.

The mother of the bride or groom can find here a complement to any wedding party in one of the softly draped chiffons made of delicate 100 percent finest pure silk.

Couturier Fashion by Leonard Arken produces a good summer-into Fall costume for city or travel with a useful jacket dress of cotton in an overall rain-splatter print, brown on white. The dress has a square neckline, those popular little pleats to the hip line, and a moderately full skirt. The jacket, sleeved to the elbow, has a soft collar and buttons, covered to match.

Slightly heavier in weight and adapted to more northern temperatures is a Vermont Natural with a simple high necked blouse and a permanently pleated skirt. The material is a mat cotton and silk plaid tweed in grey-brown.

Not to be missed is the current sale at Mayne Mead. An attractive bargain for the girl whose tan is done to a turn is a dazzling white dancing dress with a tight bodice and thin crossed straps above a stiff spray of skirt. The whole gown made of minute permanent pleats, each one edged with miniature rick rack. The only down-to-earth quality about this creation is that it is also drip-dry.

Another find in the sale rack is an oatmeal-colored and textured dress which looks simple and smart with a straight skirt and a loosely tied collar; completely lined to keep its shape and feels wonderful to wear. Pett's cater to the small and short-waisted and are a specialty at Mayne Mead and there are good choices of pure Irish linen sheaths in a variety of vibrant blues.

All of the dresses you will find here can have but need no accessories. They stand out and alone.

DARK ROOM AVAILABLE
Free to Photographers. A new era for photography in Princeton has begun at Mail Camera, which, while marking its sixth anniversary last weekend, opened a fully-equipped dark room to be avail-

Happy Weekend!

If you want to put your best foot forward as a weekend guest, take your hostess a gift which will surely please as a delicious and substantial contribution to her commissary.

At the Nassau Delicatessen, you will find a handsome 9"x9" blue tin box, designed for holding your own treasures or culinary successes later on, now full of crisp salted biscuits and wafers. There are tiers of beautifully-packed German cookies, pickled or filled, decorated with coconut, cocoa or crushed sugar and delicately flavored with orange peel, and an interesting ingredient called lecithin which helps to keep you young while it improves your vocabulary.

Enclose no card. Your message, with flowers, is written on the box top. "Happy weekend!"

able and free of charge to all do-it-yourself photographers. This is a gesture of good will which goes even further than providing excellent facilities for developing and printing; screen, easel, twin projectors, Beseler enlarger and complete editing and splicing equipment for movie film.

The proprietor, Milton Hersh, is willing and eager to give assistance, information and guidance to those who want it. He is most completely trained to do so from long and enthusiastic experience in the art and means of photography.

Ready at Mail Camera is a stock with all the major franchises which can fulfill the needs of a hobbyist or a professional. There is a modest business in trade-ins, new and old cameras and accessories.

Among the very new items is one worthy of real fans—a beautiful blue-grey Airball projector. You take the picture and this Superba 77 does the rest. It has remote control, automatic timing control, push-button control and if you still want to stay in the act, it has manual control. Report from THE MAYOR

Senior Citizens. The final session of the Conference of Governors at Glacier Park, Montana, saw action on two resolutions affecting areas of concern for local community action.

The least controversial of these was probably the determination to press for more effective programs for meeting the special problems of our older citizens. The costs of adequate health and medical care, they felt, could best be met through federal health insurance under our Social Security system.

At the community level, however, both public and private agencies "must be stimulated and encouraged to develop effective approaches to all the problems of the aging—especially the provision of suitable housing and the planning of leisure-time activities." An example of constructive community action can be seen in the efforts of the many Princeton volunteers who help bring the public library service to the homes of so many of our older folks.

Civil Defense. Far more controversial were the deliberations of the Conference over the resolutions on Civil Defense. Under New York Governor Rockefeller's chairmanship, a special study committee strongly urged construction of fallout shelters as a protection from nuclear attack, and, in their view, as a deterrent of such an attack. They urged that municipal building codes be amended to include fallout shelter requirements and allow for their construction.

In a field so complicated, it is difficult to judge the wisdom of such a program. Can we protect our citizens from the devastation of today's nuclear weapons? Is the shelter program, as some feel, a 1960 version of the Maginot Line thinking of the 1930's?

On the other hand, should we fail to take these steps, however we may question their effectiveness, when the protection of the people of our community is the prime responsibility of public officials at all levels?

This Mayor believes strongly that there is no alternative to peace as the basis for survival in today's world. To that end, each one of us should bend every possible effort toward seeing that the shelter and fallout "protection" are made available to each family so that the decision can be made in the light of their own reaction to these facts.

The times we live in are vastly different from any that preceded us. We need a vastly different outlook with which to meet them. In many ways, the people of Princeton have a unique opportunity to participate in the carrying out of new approaches.

News Of The Theatres

In the first place, Mitzl Gaynor, although she turns in a creditable performance as Nellie Forbush, can't compare to Mary Martin, and Rossano Brazzi (provided with the dubbed-in voice of Giorgio Tozzi) isn't up to the late Ewa Penza. Miss Gaynor's performance in particular lacks the bounce of the original. Aside from these tube-expected differences, the movie version is simply, overdone. The color, for example, overpowers; Miss Gaynor appears yellow, blue and pink at different points in the show, while the role of Bill Hall undergoes a series of changes which may send the spectator reeling from the theater.

Luckily, the screen production does little tampering with the well-known musical score aside from shifting the vocalists. Indeed, some such as "Bloody Mary," "There's Nothing Like A Dame" (with Ray Walston as Luther Babb) and "Bill Hall" (with Juanita Hall as Bloody Mary) come out as well as the original. But the overall effect is one of boredom, unless the viewer happens to be one of those individuals who can't appreciate music without seeing the story that accompanies it.

"COUNTRY STORE"
Rorer's Real Delight. We know a husband who drives his wife to New Hope via Trenton so as not to insult her whim (which becomes expensive) to "do just one little errand" at Rorer's Hardware Store in Hopewell. On the other side of the ledger, the careful husband who drops in for a new fishing line, a croquet set and a catcher's mitt for junior.

This is no ordinary hardware store. It is a friendly country store that has everything from a toggle bolt to a bird house, and if you have a problem, mechanical or just "where are the fish running?", this is the place to take it. Clerk and customers alike become immediately and totally involved, and when you leave your problem solved, you have the proper nuts and bolts, a new fishing line, a croquet set and a catcher's mitt for junior.

Here is everything for home and garden including a series of suggestive Home and Garden Decorating Books. For the feminine gardener who wants to spare her roses but is tired of juggling around a heavy tank sprayer, DuPont has designed a handy and inexpensive glass quart sprayer which you merely fill with DuPont chemicals in measured proportions (all clearly spelled out on the side of the bottle), screw to the garden hose and turn on the tap.

The water picks up the correct amount of chemical and flows through the jet and out the nozzle. All you need is a length of hose corresponding to the size of your garden, and there are rolls of plastic hose of various sizes for your convenience at Rorer's.

A flexible aluminum trellis is a new wrinkle. It comes in rolls and can be easily attached to porch post or side wall and once more, promises never to need paint or polish and does a dandy job of training the tendrils.

After the trellis, for the patio table, are any number of improvements for outdoor dining. Decorative and useful are tiny copper kerosene lamps no more than six inches high and topped with minute glass chimneys. Only 75 cents apiece.

Another item to keep the hot dish hot for the indoor or outdoor buffet is a Revere chaffing dish of solid stainless steel, light and easy to care for and perfect for baking and serving letter on its stand heated by two candles. Baskets—bread, berry or bed type for pets; a set of these hard to find, old-fashioned yellow zink-ning bowls made of stoneware; everything for the freezing and canning seasons including containers, cookers and recipes. What can't you find?

What's more, there are gas pumps at the front door and complete tin shop at the rear where you can get your own custom-made stove pipe. Once you have explored this remarkable store, it is bound to become a favorite stop. Service with a smile!

"UNDERPANTS" LIMP
Players Second Week. The University Players' second show of the season, "The Underpants" by Carl Sternheim, opened Tuesday night at Murray Theatre as a comedy. By the end of the first act, the audience was in some doubt, and the end of the production came more as a relief than a climax.

"It's amazing how little thinking some of us get away with these days," says Theobald Maske, the most consistently developed character of the cast of six, and ably played by M. Throne. And this precept seems to have been followed by playwright and translator-adaptor, Eric Bentley, who has done an even poorer job.

Piet Thin. The springboard for the plot is the unfortunate loss of Frau Maske's underpants in public. On such a thin pretext, two men are driven mad with desire for her and answer the "Room For Rent" sign displayed in the window. Frank Scarron, a writer played by Gerald Hilton, changes ideologically during the play from a doddering old man whose desires seem ridiculous rather than funny, to a Nietzsche-inspired philosopher.

Her other suitor, a barber with the improbable name of Benjamin Mandelstam, is enacted by Roy Baron, who at least has the virtue of selfishness. Peggy Pope, as the sweet young hausfrau with amorous ambitions, does the best she can with a well light impossible role, but the script conquers her in the end.

Lucile Patton, who takes the part of the old-maid confidante of 32, encourages Frau Maske in her pursuit of love, and it is part of her unfortunate dramatic task to make the not-so-good wife another pair of underpants, the better to seduce the writer. Developments follow the pattern of a third-rate television show, and the results of these hinks become less and less interesting as the evening progresses.

The physical aspects of the production offered a pleasant change. The setting, which opened up the entire Murray stage, makes ingenious use of space with the apartment walls indicated by colored strings and the doors by mere frames. The furniture gives a good feeling of the 1910 period, and the actors moved easily and well throughout.

Murray's lighting system still seems to pose some problems, which will undoubtedly be solved in succeeding performances. Richard Cumming's score, which was performed in part by the Princeton Community Band, was evocative of the period, but left a good deal to be desired in reproduction.

"The Underpants" will be presented at 8:30 through Saturday night.

Street and proceeding to within 200 feet of Bayard Lane. The land to be purchased from Mrs. John F. McCarthy, Sr., for $13,050. Purchase is subject to the acquisition of Community Gardens.

Following the strong protests of three residents of Van Dyke Road (actually Terhune Road; its final name remains to be settled), Committee took under advisement the paving assessments recommended by the Board of Improvement Assessors.

Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Humphrey, Van Dyke Road, said the paved road was superfluous so far as they are concerned, because they already have access to their property. They suggested that Trinity Church, which has no access at all to the new All Saints' Chapel property, bear the brunt of assessment because the road was a definite benefit to the chapel. Samuel Frothingham, speaking for Trinity, said that the church had contributed $1500 toward construction of the road and had given a 70-foot right-of-way free to the Township.

Attorney Homer Zink, appearing for Donald Bond, corner of Van Dyke and Snowden Lane, told Township Committee that Mr. Bond was not benefited by the paving of Van Dyke Road because he already had 225 feet of frontage on Snowden. He challenged the front-foot basis for assessment and told Committee that the assessors should refer to the properties, examine them and then assess on the basis of benefit received. If this were not done, he said Mr. Bond would retain a professional assessor to appraise the extent of benefit to his property. Deano Meyer, who lives on the opposite corner of Snowden and Van Dyke from Mr. Bond, seconded Mr. Zink's remarks.

Committee passed on first reading a new ordinance replacing the Roseale Road sewer ordinance which was defeated at a special meeting last week. The new ordinance would provide a sewer up Gaherath Drive East for 500 feet, then west for 300 feet along the south side of Roseale Road for a total of three properties and $9,000. Assessments would be done on a deferred basis with the Township meeting one-third the cost of the sewer.

This $3,000 would then be added to the assessments of any new property owners who received the benefit of subsequent extension of the sewer line. Public hearing on the measure is set for August 1.

SWIMMER DROWNS

In Four-Foot Ditch, A 17-year old boy, swimming in a four-foot irrigation ditch on a farm in Dutch Neck, drowned Tuesday afternoon. He was Jerry D. Cypress, a member of the Class of 1961 at Princeton High School.

State Police said the youth was swimming in the ditch on the S.D. Grover farm, where he lived,

They reported that while he was a good swimmer, he had a heart condition which may have contributed to his death.

With him at the time were a brother-in-law, Thomas Gillette, and a 14-year old brother, Clinton Cypress, Jr. They told police that the youth had disappeared under the water in the shallow ditch and that they had located him almost immediately and pulled him out.

A rescue squad from Mercerville worked over the victim at the scene and then rushed him to St. Francis Hospital in Trenton. He was, however, pronounced dead on arrival.

In addition to his brother, young Cypress is survived by his parents, Clinton and Nora Cypress, and a sister, Mrs. Thomas Gillette. His father is employed on the Grover farm.

BIRTH LIST

11 New Arrivals. Seven girls and four boys were born to residents of the Princeton area last week in Princeton Hospital.

Parents of boys are: Mr. and Mrs. James Wilson, 294 Witherspoon, and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Griggs, Fackler Road, June 27; Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Ajprel, 191 Linden Lane, June 30; Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Prome, 59 Merritt Drive, Trenton, July 1.

Girls were born to: Mr. and Mrs. Philip J. Cobb, 355 Walnut Lane, June 26; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Duval, Zion—Westville Road, Skillman, and Mr. and Mrs. George Steiner, 32 Clover Lane, June 27; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Janicky, 39 Lawrenceville—Pennington Road, and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Wanner, Rocky Hill, on June 29; Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Jennings, 13 Hodge Road, Franklin Park, and Mr. and Mrs. William Carter, 1 Forestral Road, Franklin Park, July 1.

ARRAIGNED IN THEFT Of Coins from Machines. Michael Cullio, 18, 25 Humbert Street, was arraigned in Township Court last week by Magistrate James S. Hill on four counts: breaking, entering, larceny and the possession of burglar's tools after he and a juvenile had been charged with breaking into the coin-operated machines at the U-Wash branch of the University Cleaners in the Princeton Shopping Center.

Cirullo and the juvenile, who is on parole from Annandale, had been picked up by Township Patrolmen Walter Emann and Robert Heacock at 12:30 a.m. Saturday, June 26, with $12.50 in quarters in a paper bag in their possession. Township police say that the pair had robbed seven machines Saturday evening.

A pinch bar wrecker was found in the laundry and screw-drivers and a small hammer were found on Cirullo and his companion.

John A. Archer, owner of the automatic-laundry establishment, estimates that he has lost $152 over the past several weeks from washing machines, coke machines, candy vending machines and a coin-changing box. Township police suspect that the pair may be responsible for other coin-machine thefts in recent weeks.

Borough police, who questioned the two men, say that the juvenile admitted breaking into the vending machine at the Princeton railroad station three times. He has been turned over to police authorities and Cirullo has been sent to the Mercer County jail to await grand jury action.

QUIET WEEKEND HERE

No Major Traffic Accidents. While the rest of the nation was rolling up 428 deaths on the highways over the holiday, Princeton spent a quiet weekend without a major traffic accident. Although there were four minor mishaps in the Borough, no injuries were reported.

In the most serious accident here, Jessie Kelly, 42, of Trenton, knocked down a Public Service pole on Stockton Street near Lover's Lane on Monday morning. She has been charged with reckless driving.

A similar accident occurred at about 3 p.m. Saturday, when a car driven by Nora M. Dufraz, 40, of 75 Harrison Street, jumped the curb, knocked down a fire hydrant and ended up against a house at 40 Princeton Avenue. Two other minor accidents involved only dented fenders.

SEES KENNEDY NOMINATION: Frederick W. Frey, a political science professor feels that Kennedy has so successfully undermined his opponents that the chances of his being stopped in his bid for the Democratic nomination for president are "highly remote." Like many others in the Princeton area, Mr. Frey is a Stevenson supporter. For comments on front-runner Kennedy, see below.

Question of the Week

Question: Many signs point to Kennedy's nomination for president at the Democratic convention. Do you think he can be stopped?

Frederick W. Frey, 19 Greenview Avenue, assistant professor of Political Science at MIT: I don't think he can be stopped. Each of the possible alternative candidates has one or more major flaws which, in the public mind, can't be overcome. I think Stevenson, for example, had to make a fight of it to get the nomination and he hasn't done so, despite Mrs. Roosevelt's urging. Johnson is a southerner and I don't believe the party would nominate or could elect a southerner, Symington, I don't think had a chance from the start. He is too little known among the savants, his ability is not particularly respected, and I don't feel he is as able as the other candidates. Kennedy, in effect, has undermined his opponents so effectively that he can't be stopped now. I'm not saying it's impossible, but the chances are highly remote. I'd like to see the Stevenson of 1952 get it. Unfortunately, since 1952 he's watered down many of his stands. I believe he would be quite satisfied and content to become secretary of state.

Mrs. Nicholas Cameron, Cherry Valley Road assistant librarian at Frick Chemical Library: Well, I feel it depends on how strong religious discrimination is going to be in the South because this is where it is going to come from. Since there is also a probability of a deadlock over the civil rights issue, I feel there is a chance of a dark horse taking the nomination away from Kennedy. I'd like to see Johnson get it rather than Kennedy. I think he is so good that I might vote for him even though I am a Republican. He's done a good job in the senate, is mature and well-rounded.

Jack Hemphill, Mountain Avenue, builder: I doubt it, frankly. The Democrats don't seem to have anybody else the public is really interested in. I'd pick Johnson rather than Kennedy but I would rather see Kennedy get it than Stevenson.

Mrs. W. H. Critz, Belle Meade, housewife: I doubt if he'll get the nomination because I don't think the Democratic professionals want him to have it for reasons I'd rather not say. Personally, I'm for Stevenson.

James Kelley, Province Line Road, machinist: I think he'll be stopped. His religion—he hasn't got a chance. I'd like to see Stevenson get it.

Mrs. Robert Lamborn, Rosedale Road, housewife: No, but I sure would like to see him stopped. I'd like to see Johnson win it because he's the best the Democrats have. But I'm for Nixon.

Sheldon Myers, 11 Madison Street, head of mathematics section at ETS: He's the front runner at this point but I have the feeling that the decision from here on lies in the hands of the professional politicians. I personally favor Stevenson and it's possible that if Kennedy is stopped, it might be the result of a move toward Stevenson by those in control. After all, he's won it two times before. I feel that either Kennedy or Stevenson would make a good candidate and would also have an excellent chance in November.

Felix Jones, Bordentown, butcher at A & P: I won't say he can't be stopped. I just feel there is going to be a lot of competition for the nomination. Kennedy isn't just going to walk in and grab it without a fight. I believe he is good a man as any in the Democratic party.

Mrs. John Yurch, 58 Cedar Lane, housewife: I think Kennedy won't be stopped. I think he is a good candidate and I would like to see him win the nomination.

Daniel Orr, 39 Vandeventer Avenue, assistant professor of economics at Amherst College: No, I think Kennedy is the strongest Democratic candidate and he will win the nomination on the second ballot. I think there are many people around interested in the vice-presidency who can deliver important marginal delegate votes to Kennedy in return for his backing for the No. 2 spot. Governor Meyner, for example, is one. I believe this is where Kennedy's greatest prospect lies and I feel its happening is almost a certainty.

Mrs. Bryant Putney, Arretton Road, housewife: Yes, I'm absolutely convinced that Kennedy can be stopped. I believe he'll fail to get the nomination on the first two ballots at which time Stevenson will come forward and win the nomination—and the election with ease.

Ben Thompson, North Brunswick, associated with the $33 Million Development Fund for the University: I'd thought that Kennedy would be stopped and I had hoped Stevenson. Stevenson would get the nomination after a deadlock had been reached by the third or fourth ballot. But when Stevenson supporters, notably Arthur Schlesinger, deserted him, I began to suspect he couldn't be stopped and that he will win. I'd like to see Stevenson get the nomination, myself.

Jerry Polizzi, Morrisville, Pa., draftsman: From what I've read in the papers and concerning his political background, I don't think anybody will prevent Kennedy from getting it. I hope he does, too.

R. K. Hill, 30 Edwards Place, teacher at the University: It doesn't look to me as if he can be stopped. He's already pulled his such a commanding lead of delegates that it is unlikely he will be. I'm a Stevenson supporter myself but I think Kennedy will get it.

PRECAUTIONS SUGGESTED

To Avoid Burglary. Princeton Borough Police Chief Raymond A. Mondone, in accordance with a proclamation by Acting Mayor Alfred E. Sorenson naming this "Burglary Prevention Week," has outlined precautionary measures designed to avoid burglaries. Noting that stolen property losses in 1969 amounted to approximately $68 million, Chief Mondone urged that several simple rules be followed when having on vacation:

Cancel all milk and newspaper deliveries since an accumulation of milk bottles or papers is a sure sign no one is home. Before leaving for a weekend or longer, notify the police department and inform them of the date of departure and return.

Have your phone disconnected when you're away on vacation. Burglars will sometimes call to see if anyone is home. If you're away, have a neighbor mow your lawn and sweep the sidewalk at least once a week.

Leave shades and blinds as you normally would when home—never close them completely. Tell one neighbor you are leaving so he can notify the police if he sees prowlers.

Do not leave valuables lying around inside the house. Remove ladders outside—they're as good as a key.

Even if you expect to be gone for a short while, be sure to close garage doors. An empty garage is a sure sign that no one is home.

THREE APPOINTED

To Red Cross Board. Gerald S. Hanks, Chairman of the Princeton Chapter of the American Red Cross, has announced three appointments to the chapter board. They are Mrs. Anna Rehfeldt, Mrs. Howard R. Lane and Dr. Chester R. Strop.

Mrs. Rehfeldt, for 30 years a Red Cross volunteer, has accepted the position of Chairman of Water Safety, and in her new capacity she will work in the special learn-to-swim program for the ambulatory physically-handicapped at the "Y" pool. A recipient last year of the highest award of merit the Trenton Red Cross Chapter can give to a volunteer, Mrs. Rehfeldt works as a Motor Service volunteer, transporting physically handicapped children to clinics for treatment.

A Princeton resident for 37 years, Mrs. Lane has been named Chairman of Public Information. —Continued on Page 15

TOUR PLANNED
Of Piano Teacher Workshops.
Miss Frances Clark, director of the New School for Music Study, has announced that four of her staff members will leave this week on a national tour of workshops designed for piano teachers. The second-annual tour will include 75 major cities and is scheduled to run for eight weeks. The one-day workshops are conducted by staff members of the School and are six hours in length. They include demonstration teaching at four different levels.

The lecturers from the school taking the tour this year are Miss Louise Goss, Miss Doris Martin and Miss Elvino Truman, all of Princeton, and Richard Chronister of Tulsa, Oklahoma. An associate director of the New School for Music Study, Miss Goss is general editor of the Francis Clark Library. Miss Martin and Miss Truman are members of the piano faculty at the New School, while Mr. Chronister is a former faculty member of the Westminster Choir College.

Teachers' Housing Needed

Moderate-priced housing is being sought for teachers who will join the Princeton Township school system this fall. Approximately 12 apartments or small houses in the Princeton area, suitable for renting, are in demand for September.
Two young women, both of whom will be teaching in the Township next fall, are searching for a small furnished apartment which they can share. The two, both graduates of Wheelock College, are typical of the type of person for whom housing must be found.

Those with information regarding housing for teachers are asked to contact one of the following: Mrs. Bayard Stockton 3rd, WA 4-2633; Mrs. H. W. Holsinger, Jr., WA 4-4324; L. S. Kraft, WA 4-4737; Mrs. J. D. Cashill, WA 1-8589; or the Stony Brook Administration Office, WA 1-6292.

Princeton families. The students, all of whom have spent the past school year with families in Michigan and Ohio, are on a three-week bus tour of the eastern United States prior to returning to their native countries.

The program for the students, which is under the direction of Mrs. John V. A. Fine, will include a picnic supper, swimming and dancing at Shipetaukin Farm Day Camp, courtesy of Mr. and Mrs. Bradley S. Kehoe; a tour of Princeton University; and special demonstrations at the Radio Corporation of America's David Sarnoff Research Center, arranged by Harry M. Cook. Contributions to help meet the cost of entertaining the APS students should be sent to Harry J. Volleweider, 29 Woodland Drive.

GIRLS TO FINISH CAMP
Two-week Session Will End.
Camp will wind-up its two-week session on River Road this Friday. This year the camp has featured expanded programs in cooking and swimming plus a new nature trail which has 70 native trees and plants named and marked.

Every unit has done some kind of camp cooking, with the girls learning to use bean holes, key-hole fireplaces and reflector ovens. The campers have been able to swim twice a week at the YMCA-YWCA pool under the direction of Mrs. William Booney and her assistants, the Misses Dale Rose and Jean Barenholtz. The nature trail was developed by Mrs. Robert Farmer, camp—Continued on Page 16

Huntington for Nixon.

To the Editor of TOWN TOPICS:
The June 24th issue of the New York Times, in a squib which I did not see, indicated, I believe, that I, among others in Princeton, was campaigning for Rockefeller for President.

This statement is both unauthorized and incorrect. I was approached to determine if I were willing to consider such action. There was neither conclusion thereon nor further discussion of the matter.

Since that time I have considered the possible Republican candidates and believe that Mr. Nixon is the more responsible, knowledgeable and the better qualified of the two. He has my support as the Republican nominee.

SOME CLASSES UNFILLED

In Y-Tecus Summer Program. There are still vacancies in the sculpture and ballroom dancing classes given by the YWCA as part of their summer program for teen-agers, according to Mrs. Georgine Hall, co-director of the program. The sculpture classes are being taught by Kempton Hastings, while Thomas Tens is handling the ballroom dancing class.

Other activities still open include the Thursday night jam session, the daily co-ed swims and the Friday night splash-dance parties, all of which have unlimited enrollment. This Friday the program will offer as one of its "specialties" a cook-out.

Also, as part of its regular program the YWCA is offering classes in modern dance for two five-week periods over the summer. Mimi Kagan a former member of Hanya Holm Company will instruct and a nursery will be available.

COMMITTEE NAMED

For Lawrenceville Library. Mrs. Daniel Longhi has again been elected chairman of the Lawrenceville Community Library, which is sponsored by the Parent-Teacher Association of the Lawrenceville Elementary School. Mrs. Longhi was the original chairman of the library committee in 1956.

BANKER GRADUATES

From Rutgers Graduate School, L. V. Silvester, Jr., of 432 State Road, was among the 313 graduates of the Stonier Graduate School of Banking, Rutgers University. Mr. Silvester, Assistant Secretary of the Princeton Bank and Trust Company, fulfilled his thesis requirement by writing on "Fiduciary Accounting in New Jersey and Suggestions for Streamlining the Procedure." In his paper, Mr. Silvester suggested a shortened form of accounting to reduce the expense of the procedure and to improve communication between fiduciary and beneficiary. Affiliated with the Trust Division of the Princeton University for the past eight years, Mr. Silvester attended Pennsylvania State College, Princeton University, and New York University.

dent. Highlighting the program, which is beginning officially this week, will be increased swimming time for adults.

The noon swim for men working in Princeton will be continued, and the pool will also be open to adults from 4:30 p.m. to closing on weekdays. Saturday schedules include an adult swim time from 2 p.m. until 6 p.m. A Wednesday evening men's swimming instruction class will be offered.

Other physical activities include individual workouts in the exercise room as well as classes in judo, directed by Tom Teng. Tennis instruction for adults will be provided by Richard Lananan, fencing instruction by Stanley Sieja, and an informal evening of volleyball and softball is also being planned. Women are invited to participate in the volleyball and softball games.

Oil painting instruction by Mrs. Constance Bonato and the Duplicate Bridge program, directed by Howard Waxwood, will be provided for adults with special interests in those areas. Arthur Westcott will hold the first meeting of the Adult Radio Club on Friday, July 4. The Radio Club welcomes everyone interested in radio and electronics.

Social activities in the "Mr. and Mrs. Club" will continue activity this summer for married couples, and the Men's Club will also continue its schedule of bi-monthly noon meetings.

PRINCETONIANS MISS

In Olympic Trials, two Princeton athletes, one a resident; the other an undergraduate, narrowly missed qualifying for the United States Olympic track team in the two-day trials held last weekend at Palo Alto, Calif.

Carl Brown, whose home is at 28 Birch Avenue, was entered in the second heat of the 110-meter high hurdles. His fifth place (With a 14.6 clocking) was one away from qualifying for the finals. The Winston-Salem Teachers senior was a member of the team which won the shuttle hurdle event at the Franklin Field relays earlier this year.

Dick Edmunds, Princeton track captain-elect, would have made the team had he run as fast in the finals of the 400-meter dash as he did in his qualifying heat. Edmunds was timed in 46.2 for the distance, being for second in his heat and easily entering the finals.

However, 46.3 was good enough to win the event and Edmunds did not finish among the first six. The top four qualified in each event.

ENGINE CO. NO. 3 WINS

In Police Youth League, Engine Company No. 3 has moved into first place in the Police Youth League, racking up a pair of victories. A 16-11 attack including two home runs by winning pitcher Albie Tuto sparked the league leaders to a 14-2 victory over Hawk and Ladder.

The front runners then edged Engine Company No. 1, 7-4, to bring their season record to 5-1. In second place is Princeton Post 76, which topped Engine Company No. 1, 10-7, and locked post the Eagles, 5-4. Post 76 now sports a 4-2 record.

In other games the Eagles defeated the Sportsmen's Club, 10-9, but the Sportsmen bounced back to trip Hawk and Ladder by a score of 13-2. Bill Circello and Bruno Fabiane of Post 76 both hit homers during the week's action. The standings:

	W.	L.	Pct.
Engine Co. 3	5	1	.833
Princeton Post 76	4	2	.667
Sportsman Club	4	2	.667
Engine Co. 1	2	4	.333
Eagles	2	4	.333
Hawk and Ladder	1	5	.167

YMCA TENNIS CONTINUES
Morse, Miss Kelly Victors. Bill Morse and Elizabeth Kelly won the Men's and Women's divisions, respectively, of the 18 years old and under section of the YMCA tennis tournament last week. The victory was the second in the tournament for Miss Kelly, who also took the Girls 19 and under tournament.

Morse won out in a field of 21 young men by defeating Ralph Harbison in the finals, 6-3, 6-2. Miss Kelly defeated Francis Mack, 6-2, 6-2, in the girls finals.

News Of The CHURCHES

DUTCH COUPLES SPONSORED

By Two Princeton Churches The First Presbyterian Church and the Calvary Baptist Church are both sponsoring Dutch refugee couples from Indonesia this summer. Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Van Treslong Prins have already arrived as guests of Calvary Baptist while Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Dumble and their two children are due to arrive July 26 under the sponsorship of First Presbyterian.

The two churches are seeking housing and employment for the two couples. Mr. Prins, who is 52 years old, worked in the import-export business in Indonesia and speaks "excellent" English. He and Mrs. Prins will live in the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Lehman, Knoll Drive, until early August, but will need housing then.

The 42-year-old Mr. Dumble has also worked in import-export firms and has additional experience as a sheet metal worker and welder. Mrs. Dumble has been a school teacher in Holland where the family has been since 1966.

At Calvary Baptist, the Christian Social Progress Committee, under the chairmanship of Jerome C. Strong, is handling the arrangements for Mr. and Mrs. Prins. The Board of Deacons at First Presbyterian is making plans for the arrival of Mr. and Mrs. Dumble, with Dea. W. W. Chace directly in charge. Both churches have worked through the Church World Service, an agency of the World Council of Churches.

SPORTSMEN ROLLING

Two More Victories Added. Good indication of what makes the Sportsmen tough to beat in the Men's Softball League was provided during the past week as the pace-setters recorded a pair of one-run triumphs. Two twin victories raised their margin over runner-up Plainboro to two full games.

Both were extra-inning affairs. Last Thursday, Green Gables had the league-leaders locked in a scoreless tie in the bottom of the eighth. Bob Cook scored the game's only run when he singled, scored in the wall and drove in an overthrow of first. Harry Kahny pitched a one-hitter for the Sportsmen. Joe Filsher a three-hitter for the losers.

Tuesday's game between Sand Hills and the Sportsmen went even further as the teams battled into the tenth deadlock at 3-3. Sinning's had backed up all his runs in the third, with the opposition picking up singletons in the fourth, fifth and sixth.

Joe Toop, Sportsmen's catcher, hammered out a home run in the bottom of the tenth to give his team a 4-3 victory. Kahny tossed a three-hitter this time as Sam List took the loss.

Circle Esso dropped a pair by wide margins, losing last week to Sinning's, 28-2, and on Tuesday to Leo's Rural Service, 16-4. In the latter game, the losers opened up with four in the first but could not hold on, eventually yielding a nine-run sixth.

Tuesday was marked by another forfeit, the first in which the power-hunter Chemical Worker have not figured. Teague's failed to field a team, Plainboro posting 7-0 triumph. (For a list of upcoming games, see Calendar of the Week, page 12.)

PAC IN CELLAR

Of Tri-County League. Going into a three-game schedule this week last seeking its first victory, the Princeton Athletic Club had hopes of elevating the cellar of the Tri-County Baseball League. Hightstown and South Brunswick Wednesday were the scheduled opponents at Harris Field. Montgomery Township posted a 6-1 defeat on the Princetonians last week. Fred K. 6-1. Princeton's knuckle ball holding the losers in check. Same night, Hightstown - Cranbury broke out of a 5-5 tie with South Brunswick to roll to an 11-5 triumph.

week's play began with Montgomery (3-1) in first place, followed by Hightstown - Cranbury (2-1) and South Brunswick (2-2). PAC's 0-3 mark had it anchored in last place.

DOUBLEHEADER STAGED

On July 4th-Holiday. The National League All-Stars hanked their American League counterparts Monday in the Midget Baseball League portion of the July 4th doubleheader at Harris Field. Frank Siebert was the manager of the victorious team, which won 7 to 6 in the Junior Baseball League game, a combined team from the YMCA and Bowers nines topped the Matthews-Nassau Oil outfit, 6 to 2.

GOLF TOURNEY SET

For Men, Women 50 and Over. A Senior Golf Tournament for men and women 50 years and over will be held this Friday at the Mountain View Public Golf Course. The tournament is sponsored by the Mercer County Recreation Department.

Those desiring to participate should call Lawrence "Skip" Ferrara at Mountain View, Tel. 2-4088. Trophies will be awarded to the winners.

POSTAL PATRON

AMAZING NEW PURITRON®

HAILED BY DOCTORS FOR RELIEF OF HAY FEVER, ASTHMA, SINUS, ALLERGIES

Double Size Unit
Model #800 - $69.95
Just plug in; it's portable!

A remarkable new "Puritron" has been developed by electronic scientists. It is being acclaimed by doctors after they buy it and see it work in their own homes, for their own families — and for their patients in their offices and operating rooms.

PURITRON clears any room of irritating dust, odors, pollen and smoke. It's better than a kitchen exhaust fan.

READ WHAT DOCTORS AND USERS SAY ABOUT PURITRON!

"Surpassed all expectations. Performs miracles for a dust allergy patient" (Pennsylvania doctor) . . . "For the first time I woke up without sinus trouble" (New Jersey MD) . . . "Controlled a stubborn form of respiratory allergy in my daughter, age 6" (Southern physician)

"First time in 13 years my son has slept with his mouth closed . . . not fighting to breathe. No sore throat, no cracked lips. To the inventor and manufacturer, my thanks." • "Tried so far only one day and found it gave marvelous relief. Thanks!" • "I get asthma with hay fever and that's why I bought Puritron. Believe me it is wonderful. Makes me breathe easier . . . and sleep. (All testimonials above were unsolicited.)
